BOUND OVER TO KEEP THE PEACE.

There was quite a large crowd in attendance at the Police Court yesterday, including many members of the Legislature and a number of our oldest and most highly respected and intelligent citizens, who were drawn thither for the purpose of hearing the examination of Mr. James P. Cowardin of examination of Mr. James P. Cowarding of pose of going up the road a short distance. Washington city, and Mr. A. W. Lacyand Colonel W. R. Winn, members of the House of Delegates, and Mr. George P. Haw, represented Mr. Fulkerson.

Upon the calling of the case, Judge Lacy asked for the discharge of Colonel Fulkerson on the ground that he (Fulkerson) was a member of the Legislature, and that under the Constitution of the State its members are privileged from arrest during its session, except from treason, felony, or a breach of the peace, and that the warrant upon which be had been arrested did not charge him with the commission of either of these offences, but simply charged that a breach of the peace was about to be committed. The motion was overruled, and the examination proceeded with. Dr. David Pannill was the first witness called. He testified that upon the evening the parties were arrested he was at Ford's Hotel, and met Mr. James P. Cowardin and conversed with him. From the difficulty that THE CAMBRICS; SHIRTING CALICOES; had occurred between Mr. Cowardin, Sr., and Colonel Fulkerson, witness inferred, from seeing Mr. Cowardin there, that there would be a difficulty between the two should they meet, and his suspicions were confirmed by the actions of Mr. Cowardin. This request he complied with.

Mr. Yerby, a clerk in Ford's Hotel, testified that upon the evening in question Mr. James P. Cowardin and another gentleman came into the office and wrote a note. While so engaged a clerk in the Capitol entered the office, walked up to Mr. Cowardin, and slipped a pistol into his (Cowardin's) pocket. He stated in answer to a question by counsel that he did not know whether Mr. Cowardin was aware that the pistol had making an effort to get certain papers; but been placed in his pocket.
